

DARYL MCGREGOR

Production designer Daryl McGregor was born and educated in South Africa. After obtaining his fine art degree he began his career during a trip to London when he was asked to design sets for a fashion shoot. He has since cultivated a highly successful career as a set and interior designer, and art director. His distinctive taste and masterful eye for detail has led him to work with industry heavyweights like Mert Alas & Marcus Piggott, and for brands such as Hermes, Kenzo, The Royal Opera and the Royal Ballet. His editorial work includes Dazed & Confused, Harper's Bazaar, L'Uomo Vogue, LIFE, The World of Interiors, Man of the World, King King and many other titled. Daryl is based in New York, London and Cape Town.
